Dim Lights, Thick Smoke And Hillbilly Music • Country & Western Hit Parade 1951-1955

- The first six volumes covering 1945-1950 were released last year. Right away, the word was out. This series is definitive, fabulously packaged, and faultlessly remastered!
- Jack Clement, who produced Johnny Cash, Roy Orbison, Waylon Jennings, Don Williams, and many others, said, "this is the best country series of all time. No doubt. No question."
- Now the story continues from 1951 until 1955. Every CD is generously full. Every booklet is extensive and chocked full of rare photos and illustrations, as well as complete stories behind the songs!
- In addition to the hits, the series contains rarities that went on to influence country music – and all music – in the years ahead.

INFORMATION

For many years, we'd received requests to do a truly definitive country series, but it wasn't until the success of our year-by-year R&B/Soul series, 'Blowin' The Fuse' (now 'Sweet Soul Music') that we decided we needed to do something comparable for country music. The first six volumes of 'Dim Lights, Thick Smoke And Hillbilly Music,' took us from 1945 - 1950, and were released in 2008. Now the story continues, and will eventually end in 1970. The series has been compiled with today's fans in mind. Yes, the big hits are there, but so are the classic performances that weren't necessarily big hits at the time, but became influential in the years ahead. Every volume has incredibly detailed behind-the-scenes stories, fabulously rare photos, and an ongoing history of country music set against the backdrop of the broader American music business. The booklets alone are 72 pages! Definitive? You bet!

Superlatives are often overplayed – although the many superlatives used in connection with the unrivalled BEAR FAMILY releases over the years are more than well justified – but such words of praise reach new heights with 'Dim Lights, Thick Smoke And Hillbilly Music' which spotlights the Country & Western Hit Parade. We pick up the story in 1951.

Rarities include Lattie Moore's proto-rockabilly classic Juke Joint Johnny, Doye O'Dell's early trucking classic Diesel Smoke, and Slim Willet's rare original recording of Don't Let The Stars Get In Your Eyes. 26 songs in all!
