The Current Background

Medical disasters, pandemics and epidemics exist at least as long as living beings inhabit this planet. And since music has been around, songs have been made about diseases and their treatment. One thinks of medieval minnesongs against plague and cholera or the TB Blues, which is about the treacherous tuberculosis and was already sung on the cotton fields of the American South before the first sound carriers could be technically produced.

Today, in the year 2020, we must confront the Corona Virus, which causes fear and anxiety to many. This gave us the idea to musically refer to the medical history with this idiosyncratic compilation and at the same time to encourage. From our own experience we can report: Music is definitely therapy against fear and worries!

The Musical Retrospection

Besides the listening pleasure, which acts like a vitamin injection, you will be musically taken on a medical journey through time, which chronologically begins in 1939 and ends in 1965. Some of the songs deal with the topic in a thoroughly humorous way and make you smile. Very rare titles and nostalgic popular songs alternate. Everyone still knows Boppin' The Blues by Carl Perkins or the Doo-Wop-laden Call A Doctor by the Crows! Some rare recordings have been released here on CD for the first time! Among them Noro Morales' mambo-instrumental Vitamina and The Mysterions' Amnesia! Many more rarities in this compilation will raise morale as well as a number of blues and R&B artists will do so. Among them Little Willie Littlefield, Louis Jordan with his incomparable Rock Doc, Floyd Dixon and Doctor Ross!
