INFORMATION

The Cues & Jimmy Breedlove

New York R&B at its finest! The Cues were on many records, usually singing background but very occasionally singing their own songs. Killer Diller was recorded in 1956 but didn't see light-of-day until BEAR FAMILY issued it on LP in 1988. The Cues' lead singer, Jimmy Breedlove, made an ungodly rare LP for RCA CAMDEN in 1958 – reissued by BEAR FAMILY thirty years later, that included his master-blasted version of Big Maybelle's Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On... and note that he rocks up Maybelle's version, not Jerry Lee Lewis's!

Jimmy Donley

The greatest recordings from the original King of Swamp Pop! Part rock 'n' roll, part R&B, part country, and part Cajun, Donley's music was like nothing before or since. He wrote hits for Fats Domino and others, but sold songs as fast as he wrote them. When he died by his own hand in 1963, he left an incredible legacy of music that laid the groundwork for Swamp Pop. From BEAR FAMILY's exclusive Jimmy Donley CD, 'The Shape You Left Me In,' here are the two most requested songs – one of them only available on CD until now!
