SALES NOTES

COUNTRY STYLE USA

The greatest repository of classic late 1950s and early 1960s country music on film. Ever!

Around 1956-'57, the United States Armed Services filmed a series of recruitment videos with the top country stars of the day. Unseen for decades, these films capture the all-time greatest Nashville stars of the day singing many of their greatest hits. These are classic 'live' performances that represent the only chance that most of us will ever have of seeing these giants of country music at the very top of their game. Many fans have only ever dreamed of being in Nashville during the 1950s and seeing this parade of top stars. Now that dream is a reality. They're performing 'live' in your living room. The picture and sound quality is crystal clear, and there are mini-biographies and rare photos to round out the experience.

Here are some of the many, many artists featured in this series:
